PERSONAL INJURY PLAINTIFF: GENERAL

James Dore Jr. is a Seattle lawyer with almost 20 years of experience. Dore is an aggressive attorney with extensive experience in personal injury, construction accidents, government seizure, property disputes, criminal defense, products liability and employment.

Dore graduated from Seattle University and obtained a J.D. from Gonzaga Law School. He clerked for Superior Court Judges Larry Jordan and Frank Sullivan.

In 1994, Dore practiced law with his father, Superior Court Judge James Dore Sr. With his father's background and knowledge, opening a law firm with him was the next step to Dore's successful practice.

In 2010, Dore partnered with Ann Deutscher and formed their current firm, Dore Deutscher Law Group, PLLC. Ann brings over 20 years of experience in medical malpractice and wrongful death cases. Since opening the new firm, they have earned clients over $10 million in verdicts and settlements.
